

Rendezvous

AT WINTER PARK

Cabin architecture moves in a new, exciting direction

After a huge success with its creative MooseHorn cabins and ProngHorn townhomes at Rendezvous, builder Colonnade Communities is introducing two new collections of homes to capture the fancy of Winter Park vacationers this spring.

One is ElkHorn—an attainably priced line of spacious townhomes that's offered for pre-sale from the $400s...remarkable for a community of Rendezvous' quality. All of them will provide bright interiors with plenty of windows and an attached garage, and will offer an option for a finished basement. Some plans have main floor master suites.

A new look at low-maintenance luxury

Meanwhile, in a secluded location surrounded by Rendezvous' award-winning custom homes, Colonnade is at work on BigHorn, an exclusive enclave of luxury-sized cabins with expansive entertaining areas, in a creative 'downhill ranch-style' floorplan. "BigHorn will bring the size and luxury of a custom home to resort buyers who prefer low-maintenance," says Keith Neale, President of Colonnade Communities.

The first townhome models at ElkHorn are on track for opening this spring...and BigHorn's first 'Corona' model is expected to be finished in time for the summer Grand County Parade of Homes.
